

The University of Auckland is New Zealand's world-ranked university. We offer more than 120 different undergraduate subjects across Arts, Business, Education, Engineering, Law, Medical and Health Sciences, the National Institute of Creative Arts and Industries, and Science. Your degree will include a General Education component to broaden your skills and complement your specialist knowledge. If you are keen to travel, studying with us will provide you with a world-class, internationally-recognised degree. There is also the opportunity to study overseas at a partner university for part of your degree through our Auckland Abroad scheme. Our research-led programmes attract a high level of teaching professionals. You will learn from people who are passionate about their chosen fields and often at the cutting-edge of advancement. Come and achieve the amazing at the University of Auckland.

The tertiary, career and industry landscape has changed so our role as a University is to adapt accordingly. AUT University provides a quality launch pad for industry professionals that is contemporary, innovative and relevant to the needs of the changing world. We offer a diverse range of programmes including Business, Law, Creative Technologies, Health, Communications, Art and Design, and Sport and Recreation. Exclusive to AUT University in the Auckland region are programmes in Oral Health and Physiotherapy. AUT University is the only university in New Zealand to offer programmes in Paramedicine, Podiatry, Midwifery, Event Management and New Zealand Sign Language. AUT is also the only university in Australasia to offer a degree of its kind in Colab: Creative Technologies.

Ranked in the top one per cent of the world's universities, the University of Canterbury offers a stimulating range of courses, a vibrant campus environment with students from around the globe and a great student lifestyle. UC balances the best of university life. We have been producing leaders for 140 years and have built up an international reputation for our high quality degrees, teaching staff and research. UC students make a difference to their community and the world.

With three campuses across New Zealand, as well as an extensive Distance Learning offering, Massey University is the University of New Zealand. With expertise in disciplines ranging from Design to Aviation, and Business to Food Technology, Massey University encourages students to take a cross-disciplinary and interactive approach to their learning. This approach and our commitment to producing work-ready graduates ensures that our students are seen as creative, innovative and connected, making them attractive to employers both here in New Zealand and internationally.

The University of Otago, established in 1869, is New Zealand's oldest university. It has a proud tradition of excellence in teaching and research in the Health Sciences, Sciences, Business, Humanities and Law. It is a residential campus, with 90% of its 22,000 students having moved away from home for the "Otago Experience" in the university city of Dunedin Victoria University of Wellington students benefit from an exciting urban lifestyle in a capital city location, learn from excellent teachers and researchers, and gain world-class qualifications. We offer degrees in the areas of Architecture & Design, Commerce & Tourism, Education, Engineering, Humanities & Social Sciences, Law, Music, Science and Health. Come and find out about admission, scholarships, and how Victoria ensures you develop your employability skills.

The University of Waikato offers a premier Business School in New Zealand, with the Waikato Management School being in the top 1% of Business Schools worldwide. We also excel in areas such as Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Music, Education, Engineering and Media Design to name a few, and have an excellent reputation for producing graduates who have practical experience in their degrees, valued by employers. We are a forward-thinking University with modern facilities in a park-like setting, and provide a community environment on campus. Our Halls of Residence provide a great way for students to experience their first year and being one of the least expensive in the country, ensures that we provide value to our students. The 'Waikato' experience will leave you enlightened and enriched.

Unitec offers a friendly and diverse learning environment with flexible study programmes, lots of support, and hands-on experience to build the skills you need for your career and future. Relevant work experience is part of every programme and we have business bases, workshops and studios on campus for hands-on, industry specific learning.